MINING AND OIL NEWS.

NEW SMELTER IN CANANEA FIELD

Sonora Copper Company Is Building It; News of Cananea Developments.

Cananea, Mex., Sept. 12.—The Sonora Copper Smelting company, operating in the Cobre Grande camp, three and one-half miles from Sonora, a station on the Southern Pacific of Mexico line, between Carbo and Selva, is at present prosecuting work vigorously. Over 65 men are employed about the mine, and in grading the smelter site, the material for which is at present at Noria station. The smelter will be installed as soon as the grading is completed. The site is between Noria and the mines. The plant will be a modern 100 ton blast matting furnace. The company has recently installed a large electric plant at the main shaft and includes two electric hoists. The deepest workings are 220 feet below the outcrop of the vein and the longest tunnel is 2000 feet, which crosses the ore. In all nearly two miles of underground work has already been done. The ore is mostly carbonaceous and with sulphides in the deeper levels.

It seems that the policy of the Greene-Cannanea company is to work nothing but the mines where medium and high grade ore is obtainable, as last week the Veta Grande mine was closed down temporarily. This now makes four mines which are either closed down or working very light. The Puertocitos is working but a few men; the Elisa is also doing very little mining, as the Veta Grande is closed down.

All these properties yield a low grade ore, many of which is of the concentrating nature. No new work is being done at present, as operations are being conducted on a scale to compare with the output.

The Calumet and Sonora company is opening up considerable ore in the 300 level of their Catalina shaft. The ore occurs in the west drift and extends several hundred feet from the shaft. Shipments of lead concentrates continue to the El Paso smelter. There has been considerable talk of a new management for the property. There is also some talk of an option having been given to the Tuggerhells for the purchase of the property, the price being named at $5,000,000. The Cananea-Boston company has begun cross cutting its ore body from the bottom of the shaft, a depth of 75 feet, on an incline. The old shaft, which has been cleaned out, is being retimbered and the men are now working in ore which is improving with every foot of work.

The Montoya shaft of the Santa Fe company has been sunk to the 500 level, where a considerable flow of water has been encountered. The steam equipment is hardly large enough to take care of the hoisting and increased pumping necessary. The shaft is bottomed in ore which is the richest yet encountered in the property. Bendelari & Cook will begin another shaft on their Miles announcement. The shaft now being sunk is on the Tomlinson property and is showing up excellently, quite an amount of native silver being encountered. The new shaft will be located up Puertocitos canyon.

Webb & Meeker, operating in the Sierra Azul mountains, about 25 miles south of Cananea, have encountered a rich ore in their Lucera de Cananea denouncement, in a tunnel which has been driven a distance of 40 feet. The first ore was found 10 feet from the portal and at short intervals to the end of the workings numerous veins have been cut. The ore averages 25 ounces of silver, 22 percent lead, 10 percent zinc and carries about 8 cents in gold. A winz has been begun at the end of the tunnel and is being sunk on the vein, which is 18 inches in width.

The North Tigre company, operating in the Tigre district, has 50,000 tons of ore blocked out, which has been accomplished by doing 2250 feet of drifting, done in various tunnels driven into the side of a mountain at intervals of 150 feet, each below the other. A are connected with winzes. The ore

MINES AT CHLORIDE DEVELOPING SHAFTS

White Eagle Shows up Well; New Hotel Is in Operation; Other Work.

Chloride, N. M., Sept. 12.—Contract has been awarded to Lewis Orear for 100 feet of sinking in U. S. Treasury shaft No. 1 and for 100 feet of upraising from the breast of north level No. 2 to connect with the bottom of White Eagle shaft No. 1. Work has started and is progressing rapidly. The shaft sinking is for the double purpose of development and water supply, and recent increase in the flow of water in No. 2 level both north and south justify the expectation that an additional 100 feet of sinking will supply all the water needed for mining operations and for the proposed mill, as much as well No. 1, the company's main source of water supply, is now full and flowing strong.

First Development.
When the purchase to the White Eagle shaft is finished it will complete the first unit of development work at this property and will place the mine in position to supply at least 100 tons for several years. It is understood that the ore body is showing great width in No. 2 level. One crosscut driven to the hanging wall is said to have been run nearly 40 feet through ore of good grade without cutting the hanging wall; and it is known that the largest and richest ore bodies in this mine have always been toward the foot wall. The foot wall side of No. 2 level shows good ore. In south level No. 2 a crosscut has been run about 21 feet toward the foot wall without encountering the will, and it is reported that the ore disclosures in this crosscut have been rich.

Bonanza Ore.
The top of the big dump shows ore of bonanza grade from the lowest workings. A six ton run of U. S. Treasury dump ore was recently made at the Morrison crusher located at the Keystone property in the north end of the district, and it is understood that a considerable portion of the pulp is en route to the headquarters office of the company for preliminary mill tests. The entire field staff of the company, including the general manager and consulting engineer, have been in conference here for almost 30 days, and it is understood that they are pleased with conditions in general.

Hotel Is Opened.
The Patrick property, including several lots and two houses, has been purchased for hotel purposes and a new hotel has opened up under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Hogue, formerly of Colorado Springs. It is understood that extensive additions will be made to the buildings and that a plaza and other attractive features will be added.

The Silver Monument property, whose operations have been handicapped by lack of water, is again in full operation following recent heavy rains. Manager Hollinger states that he has abundant water and that the mine will probably be no further interruptions in the work.

Work on the Black Range Reduction company's mill is progressing slowly, most of the workers having recently been laid off. It is announced, however, that the mill will be ready to receive ore in about 60 days.

Work has been actively resumed on the Elephant Butte dam. It is reported that the government will have 1500 men at work within a short time and it is expected that the railroad from Engle to the dam will be completed by the first of January.

ANOTHER STRIKE IS MADE ON TOM REED

Five Foot Shoot of Ore Is Opened Up; Ore Shipped; New Pump Placed.

Another rich strike has been made at the Tom Reed mine, Maricopa county, Ariz., where a five-foot shoot of high grade ore was opened on the 300 foot level, about 800 feet from the main shaft in the western part of the mine. The foundation for another battery of ten stamps is completed. A new tube mill and compressor has also been installed.

A second consignment of $150 per ton has been forwarded from the C. O. P. mine and a new Cameron sinking pump placed in the shaft.

DOING SPLENDID WORK ON LLUVIA DE ORO.

General Manager Has a Large Force of Men at Work in Underground Operations in El Tigre Country.

Frank Whalen, general manager of Lluvia de Oro mine (El Tigre country), now in El Paso, says he is running a crosscut tunnel which will be 600 feet long when completed and will then give him a depth of 1500 feet vertically from the surface, to the tunnel level. He has already cut several veins, all carrying pay ore, which did not appear on the surface. This new vein is from 15 to 30 feet wide, all of cyaniding gold ore, averaging from $8 to $15 per ton, carrying at the same time a high grade streak of $200 gold ore. He is now drifting on that large vein and still the main vein, which is his objective point, has not yet been reached. He also says that the cost of milling and cyaniding will not exceed $2 per ton. A large number of well known mining men are associated with Mr. Whalen in this enterprise as stockholders.

Mr. Whalen proposes to return to the mine on Tuesday.

COPPER QUEEN HAILS LUMBER TO MOUNTAINS

Establishing Camp in Catalinas Where It Is Building Houses and Installing Hoists.

Tucson, Ariz., Sept. 10.—Having purchased mining property in the Catalina mountains, near Tucson, the Copper Queen is now having lumber hauled to the camp. E. M. Sawyer, manager of the new claims, who placed a big order for timber and other lumber, stated the material was to be used in the erection of houses, mine buildings, hoists and galleys frames. In underground timbering, posts taken from trees in the vicinity of the claims will be used.

CAVALIERI AND HUSBAND HAVE NO TROUBLES.

New York, Sept. 12.—The New York Times prints a special cable message from Paris saying that Lina Cavallieri exhibited a telegram signed by her husband, Robert W. Chanler, and reading as follows: "Not true. I have seen no one. Work begun. Devotedly, 'Robert'."

"I hope," said La Cavallieri, "that the wild stories about Mr. Chanler and myself will now be set at rest."

ARTESIAN WATER NEAR TUCUMCARI

California Expert Says That It Is There—Quay County Fair October 12.

Tucumcari, N. M., Sept. 12.—P. O. Adams, an irrigation expert from California, is in this county investigating the probability of artesian water here. He expresses it as his opinion that Quay county has such water, especially in the valleys east of Tucumcari, to irrigate the whole of the surrounding country. The question of sinking a deep well has received a good deal of consideration here given to the holding of several mass meetings but up to this time no definite action has been taken. October 12 and 13 have been decided upon as the dates for the Quay county fair as it thus gives a better railroad rate because of the holding of the grand lodge of New Mexico I. O. O. F. at Tucumcari October 10 and 11, when a great many visitors will be in the city.

J. A. Youree, mayor of Tucumcari, has sold his interests in the International Bank of Commerce of this city, the controlling stock of which was recently purchased by W. F. Buchanan, but for the present will remain here looking after his other business.

C. H. Aldredge with his wife and children has gone for a month's visit with friends at St. Louis, Mo.

C. M. Parsons and wife have returned from a visit to points in Missouri and the north.

E. W. Tucker and wife, of El Paso, have moved to this city, where he will occupy the position as coppersmith at the P. & W. shops.

J. W. Dickey killed two large wildcats in the brakes northwest of Tucumcari. These animals are more plentiful than usual this year.

Carl George has returned from Colorado Springs, where he and his family have been on their vacation. Mrs. George will remain a while longer before coming to Tucumcari.

D. J. Finnegan, who was a former resident of Tucumcari, is now located in Phoenix, Ariz.

Clint Rutherford formerly in business here on East Main street, is now located at Oregon City, Ore.

A dance was given at the New Arcade theater on Abate street, a good crowd being in attendance. The new seats will be installed this week.

E. A. Selger has severed his connection with the firm of Hass and Selger, tailors, and taken the management of the Phoenix Tailoring company on West Main street.

Rev. George R. Varney has returned from a week's absence during which time he attended a meeting of the New Mexico Baptist convention at Roswell, the Portales association at Clovis, and the ministers' council at Albuquerque.

E. A. Mauzey living east of town was in the city exhibiting some fine specimens of brown corn and millet.

A. McDonald and wife have gone to Kansas City, where they will visit for a short time after Mrs. McDonald will leave for her old home at Mount Vernon, Mo., where she will spend several months visiting her parents.

William Seligman, who recently came to this country, has purchased a ranch and will make this his future home.

Home grown melons are now appearing in Tucumcari daily and are of the finest quality. About two carloads a week are coming into town.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Rome P. Donohoe, a son.

Miss Lillian Mercer of Naco, spent several days in Nogales, the guest of Mrs. S. F. Noon.

William Cunningham, formerly of Nogales, but now of Watsonville, Cal., is in Nogales visiting Mrs. S. Cunningham.

GAMBLING STARTS JUAREZ CENTENARY

Mexican Town Is Decorated For Celebration; Hidalgo Is Honored.

All Ciudad Juarez is agog for the coming centenary celebration there. It begins Wednesday, but already the border Mexican city has assumed a festive appearance.

Decorations are fast going in place. Arches of color, bunting and flags are being constructed at the entrances of Constitution plaza, and the new bandstand is covered with tri-colors. Private residences are being draped. Of especially artistic effect is the postoffice building, decorated at the direction of the postmaster himself.

A special feature has been added to the first day's program. A stone doing honor to the name of Hidalgo will be placed over the center door of the postoffice building. The memorial is given to the city by the typographical society of Juarez, and the printers will officiate with the public officials at its installation. D. M. Perez, president of the typographical centenary committee, will be chief officiant.

A fiesta of gambling, which for eight days will run in Juarez, began Sunday morning. Under a large tent in front of the bull ring are in progress all varieties of gambling games, much resembling the annual fiesta of gambling. Gambling rights have been secured by Jose S. Perez, a wealthy resident of the city of Chihuahua. He paid $5000 to the city, and another $1000 to the state.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE MAJESTIC.
An entire new bill will be seen at the Majestic tonight, the title of which is "All a Mistake." It is another one of Mr. Le Roy's productions, said to be replete with good singing and dancing, pretty chorus numbers and clean comedy. A new electrical number will be introduced tonight that promises to surpass anything ever attempted at this theater and very rarely equalled by the big ones. There will be two shows tonight—7:30 and 8:45. The prices are 10 and 25c.
